WHERE WILL YOU GO? THIS QUESTIONINOW ENGAGING THE

ATTENTION OF SOCIETY BELLES. The Difference Between Northern and Southern Reserts-Wrote Love Verses for Prizes-Personal Notes.

"Where will you go this summer ?" is the question every one is asking. To those who are not conservative and annually pose a different pleasure-ground it is most perplexing. "Constitution," says the autocrat of the breakfast table, should decide one in choosing a summer residence. Comfort is essential to enjoyment. You must cut your climate to your constitution much as your clothing to your shape. After this consult your taste and convenience. But if you would be happy in Berksbire you must carry mountains in your brain, and it you would enjoy Na haut you must have an ocean in your soul. Nature plays at dominoes with you; you must watch her piece or she will never give it up to you.

Notwithstanding this wise advice it is not to be denied that personal happiness has more weight than constitution in the choice of a summer resort.

To spend the season North means happiness, masmuch that you are absolved from the cares of an elaborate wardrobe; that the cares of an elaborate wardrobe; that you will enjoy a bracing atmosphere, which will be most exhibitanting. But as far as social life goes, unless you import your party or already know a few friends on which to build your further acquaintances, you are apt, like Milton's angels, to "sitapart." The vigorous out-of-door life—yachting, tennis, and other sports to characteristic of northern resorts—is far more sensible and health-giving than life spent at fashionable southern resorts. Here dancing is the fetish—the diversion par excellence—and since discoveries are announced momentarily it is a comfort to know that there will always remain a question unsolved by scientists. "What could be accomplished by all the vigor expended by a White Sulphur morning german?"

SOUTHERN GIRLS AT RAR HARBOR.

It is not often that the southern girl, albeit she is emimently equipped as to attractiveness, possesses the sole-reliance to brave the untried shores of a northern resort. A few years ago, it is recorded, two queenly belies, probably inspired with the desire for conquests in new fields, went to Bar Harbor. Their chaperon was anorthern lady, who had the entre of the exclusive sets and who was intimate with the cottagers. She, however, with all these attractive attributes of a chaperon, possessed the flaw of being fond of attention herself. So every day she would send her proteges, the southern girls, handsome bounders, but there her attention ended, for she would never introduce them to any gentlemen, and would say, regretfully:

"I am so sorry, my dears, there are no men here—really there are not enough to go around." SOUTHERN GIRLS AT BAR HARDOR.

Of course girls with any spirit could not to one of their own southern resorts and spent the season, filed and toasted as their charms deserved. This all happened in the pioneer days of Bar Harbor, a few years after it had been discovered by the wealthy and exclusive Philadelphians, who, it is said, are quite disgusted that so large a portion of the outside world has now found it out. Quite recently several of the representative young ladies of Richmond have visited Bar Harbor to their supreme delight and satisfaction. THE GIRLS CAME PACK. supreme delight and satisfaction.

The exodus to White Sulphur this season, it is predicted, will be larger than ever.

Something charmingly unique and delightful in entertaining was the "love-feast" given on Friday evening by Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Cabell in honor of Miss Safford, of New York, and Mrs. Thorpe, of Mecklenburg. MRS. CABELL'S LOVE-FEAST.

The guests were provided with diminu-The guests were provided with diminutive hearts of white paper, on which a verie descriptive of love was to be written, and for the best a prize was to be awarded. It is impossible to tell the great degree of merriment, wit, and fun this occasioned. Miss May Safford won the first prize—an exquisite tray of repousee silver with "love feast, May 15th," engraved upon it.

Mr. Philip Bruce won the first prize for gentlemen—a silver match-box.

Mrs. William Talbott won the booby prize—a large green frog, elaborately garnished with green ribbons. Very appropriate as her verse was: "A Frog He Would A-Wooing Go.

Mr. Jo. Lane Stern won the booby prize—a tail donkey, tied with green ribbon.

WORK OF THE CITY MISSION.

What These Noble Christian Women Accomplished During the Year.

The following is the annual report of he City-Mission work from May, 1890, to the City-Mission work from May, 1890, to May, 1890; to May, 1890; The managers of the City Mission feel it is due the friends (who so kindly aid them in their work; to show each year how their contributions have been applied. Seventy-five ladies have most rainfully worked in the mission during the past year, and the distribution through their several districts has been as follows: Groceries—6,000 pounds sugar, 6,000 pounds rice, 1,000 pounds tea, 850 pounds coffee, 2,000 pounds crackers. This amount has been supplemented by donations from various grocers of barrels of ish, flour, camed goods, &c., and barrels of bread sent each month by Mr. Bromm. Clothing distributed—3,000 old garments, 75 new ones, 250 pair old shoes and boots, 6 pair new ones, 6 nice overcoats, 500 yards red flannel, 260 yards canton finanel, 300 yards cotton cloth, 8 bed-quilts and blankets, These distributions were supplemented by a large lot of cloth, cloaks, and coats from Thalhimer Brothers, also coods from Levy & Davis, Millbiser, and Miller & Rhoads.

Two thousand visits have been made to families, a large number of them widows and orphans: 25 old infirm people have been regularly cared for: 12 chidren, through the efforts of visitors, have been rescued from homes of depravity and placed in orphan asylume or in comfortable country homes; 12,000 sick rations have been issued from the Mission-House by the marron, who faithfully discharges her duty to the poor as well as the board.

The prayer-meeting at the Mission-House been blessed to the lame, halt, and blind who find their way to the meeting, which has been the special care of one of the visitors. The sewing-school, under the management of a most efficient superintendent, has proved a great success and productive of great benefit to sixty-four girls, between

The sewing-school, under the management of a most efficient superintendent, has proved a great success and productive of great benefit to sixty-four girls, between the ages of nine and fourteen, who are every week under the minuence of seven faithful and efficient teachers. One hundred and thirty-eight garments have been completed during the year and all given to the children.

The ice mission, a late adjunct of the City Mission, is now an established charity, and the kind, benevolent lady with whom it originated cannot be too highly commended. Three years ago, while suffering on a sick-bed, enjoying the comfort of free use of ice, she formed the plan of an ice mission for the poor, and it has been a blessing to many sick and suffering persons. Eighteen thousand pounds of ice have been distributed by City-Mission visitors with tickets from the ice mission. Amount of money distributed from the treasury, $1,400. In addition to this amount sums of money have oceasionally been donated the managers for special cases. Fitty-one thousand one hundred and fifty tickets for coke have been distributed, signed by the Chairman of the Coal Committee, and also the Superintendent of Public Charities. This coke is donated by the City Council.

The treasury of the mission is nearly empty and the poor suffer so much from sickness that they require as much help in summer as in winter. The ladies beg their friends to remember the mission and send then help for the summer months. No matter how small the amount, it will help to relieve the poor during the hot months. Contributions of clothing or money can be sent to any member of the City Mission.

When the awful words were uttered that declared the popular and influential young Democrat a felon it was painful to look upon the accused and his grief-stricken brother. There were many tearful eyes in the court-room.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the prisoner was brought up to the court-room by the Sergeant. His brother, Mr. Peyton Grymes, who remained by his side through the entire trial, was present and took a scat behind the bar by the side of the young man upon whom sentence was shortly to be passed.

upon whom sentence passed.

Several warm friends of the prisoner came in and pressed his hand in silence.

Grymes seldom raised his eyes to meet the curious glances of the large number of spectators present or to look into the faces of those whose hearts beat with sympathy for him. He was indeed a miserable man, and his features told of his great mental sumed his seat.

At 11:10 Judge Aiken took his seat on the bench, Sergeant Epps rapped the court to order and made proclamation. The Clerk read the record of Friday's proceedings, which were signed by the Judge.

About a minute later Commonwealth's Attorney Smith came into court, spoke to the Judge for a few seconds, and was soon followed by the four coursel for the defease of the Judge to the Judge for the defease of the Judge for the Ju

In saying this I did not mean that it had been removed for other than legitimate purposes, as might have been inferred. I find, however, that the mistake was mine, and that the right book was sent me, and in referring to it I looked at the top of page 641 instead of 461. I would be glad, however, if your Honor would refer to the case I cited, that you may see I quoted correctly." you may see I quoted correctly.

JUSTICE BATISFIED. Continuing, Major Stringfellow said:

"We have thought over the matter and consulted and we teel convinced that the ends of justice have been attained in the verdict which was rendered by the jury yesterday. It seems to us to be a useless matter to continue, and we would therefore ask leave to withdraw the motion for arrest of judgment made by us yesterday afternoon. Doubtlessly your Honor and the Commonwealth's Attorney will agree with us in this."

The Judge at once acquiesced in this. "E. B. Grymes," commanded the Clerk

The Governor yesterday pardoned Richard Lane, Granville Moody, and Willie Harvie. Lane was sentenced to the penitentiary for cattle-stealing and barn-burning in Fairfax, and is liberated on the certificate of the prison surgeon that he has an incurable disease. Moody was sentenced for eight years for forgery by the Hustings Court of Petersburg, and the same reason is given for his pardon. Harvie was sentenced from Prince Edward for nine years for housebreaking. The Governor's reasons for elemency in his case, as shown by the endorsement.

are: He was a youth at the time of his trial in 1887. There was no reason why he should have been sent to prison for a longer term than those who were associated with him and convicted of the same crime, and whose terms have expired. The prisoner is now suffering from an incurable disease. He was prosecuted by the Governor while the latter was Commonwealth's attorney of Prince Edward.

The Governor refused to pardon Macon Sims, convicted of house-breaking in Prince Edward and sentenced to the penitentiary. ASKED TO SEND DELEGATES.

ASEED TO SEND DELEGATES.

His Excellency received a circular-letter from Mr. Sutton, chairman of the Organizing Committee, and Hon. W. H. Cerfield, foreign secretary, calling attention to the Seventh International Congress of Hygiene and Demography to be held in London August 10, 1591. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is the president of the congress.

The chairman of the committee named was directed by his Royal Highness to express the hope, they say, that this State "will see fit not only to send delegates, but that they will also be pleased to forward a copy of the preliminary statement sent herewith to such of the learned societies in your State as would appear to you to be interested in the subject of the congress." THE SCRIBES DECLINED.

THE SCHIEFS DECLINED.

The Governor promptly offered to appoint as delegates to the Congress representatives of the DISPATCH and State, who were present when the letter was received, but these gentlemen, after due consideration and the consultation of several dictionaries, declined the honor for two reasons: Their first reason was that Demography does not, as its etomology would seem to imply, mean writing for, of, or to the masses or people, or words to that affect. It means that Demartment of Anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations.

Their second and less important reason for declining was that the State does not provide for paying the expenses of delegates to such congresses, and there is no certainty that the British Government would honor a draft for the same.

When questioned concerning the success of her novel, "Passion," she replied that while the book had had an unusual sale and she had received the highest praise, it and she had received the highest praise, it had also been harshly criticised, especially in Virginia; and though at times deeply wounded, she felt that it was the inevitable result of fearless expression. She added that while she had not been able to develop any of the pocularities deemed necessary to an author, she was certainly wrapped up and absorbed in her work, and found the world after her seclusion and daily labor a rather unreal place.

Her second novel is in the hands of the publishers, and from the knowledge of the strength of her pen and some points gleaned, we may safely expect a powerful book.

Rheumatism. Every one has heard the word.

"How's your mother?" "Ob, she's well except her rheumatism." How carolessly the answer is given. Do you know how it feels to have rhoumatism? Oh! it's terrible, the swelling and excruciating pain of ankle, snee, elbow, and shoulder, just as if each point was a bundle of irritated nerves, each one seemingly bent on giving more pain than the other. Laying awake all night longing for daylight, aching too severely to sleep, applying lintment every half hour to temporarily relieve the agony. Praying, cursing, turning, twisting, but no case, no comfort. What is it that causes rheumatism? Ah, there are a thomsand causes. What is it that cures rheumatism? Thank God, there is at least one cure. It is called B. B. B., or Botanic Blood Baim. It has cured more cases of rheumatism than any other known remedy. Try it. Do not suffer longer.

J. H. Laing, Dawson, Ga. writes; "I suffered with rheumatism in my shoulders and general debility. Five lotties B. B. B. improved my health, and the rheumatism left me."

J. P. Davis, Atlanta, Ga. (West End), writes: "I consider that B. B. has permanently cured me of rheumatism and sciatics."

The demand for our $15 SACK and CUTAWAY SUITS this season has been phenomenal. They have been put to the test of the most critical judgment—and are still at the front with "flying colors." They have won favor in the eyes of men who never wore ready-made clothes before-and the enthusiastic approval of men who never wear anything else. Public opinion is a unit in their praise. We've gone to the very limit of the tailoring art to bring them to the pitch of perfection you find them. The variety isn't equalled in the combined resources of our competitors. The quality other folks mark at $20 we have even improved upon and marked at $15. You can't get a custom tailor to duplicate them short of $30—and we'll guarantee the same satisfaction in stitch-every fibre. They are specially made suits. We "laid ourselves out" to "beat the world" at this price and WE'VE There are PLAIN BLACK CHEVIOTS cut in SINGLE and DOUBLE-BREASTED SACKS with SINGLE and DOUBLE-BREASTED VESTS, and THREE and FOUR-BUTTON CUTA-WAYS. There are FANCY CHEVIOTS, PLAIN and FANCY CASSIMERES, HOMESPUNS, TWEEDS, TRUE BLUE SERGES and WORSTEDS—thoroughly tailored and trimmed—in sizes to fit every human being—Mind you, we say FIT. That doesn't mean "fairly well," but FAULTLESSLY.

Your dollars are above par when they are buying such suits as these—and you never were better dressed than when you are wearing one of them. Let the good work go on.
